Press Information

Between these covers you should find just about everything you need to know about the Tigers. Please don't hesitate, however, to call on us at any time.

Press, Radio and TV

If you're assigned to cover a game in Clemson's Memorial Stadium this fall, the following hints will be helpful:

ENTRANCE TO STADIUM/PRESS BOX

Enter through Gate 13 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the southeast corner. Should you have need to pick up tickets at our press will call gate, they will be at Gate 13. Come through Gate 13, and go straight ahead to the elevator which will take you to the press box.

PRESS BOX

There are two levels to Clemson's press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a dark room, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks, and athletic directors for Clemson and the visiting team. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 104 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet, and the telecopier room.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

We'll appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to BOB BRADLEY. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

PARKING PASSES AND COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS

There are a limited number of these available for use by the members of the working press, and the sooner we know of your need, the closer we will come to filling your request. Your request should be made directly to BOB BRADLEY.

TELECOPIER AND ELECTRONIC SERVICES

Our press box is equipped with eight (8) outside phone lines for your electronic equipment, and at no charge to your paper. We will have three telecopiers at the game which can be used on a first-come, first-serve basis, and we also have press box assistants who are available to send you copy as necessary. THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR ANY OF THESE SERVICES.

It is the responsibility of each paper to make prior arrangements for season-long phone installations, which gives the paper first priority on that phone. Electrical and phone jacks are at each seat.

There are also three other phones which are reserved for radio voice reports for an hour after the game conclusion.

We furnish a typed play-by-play, individual and team stats, and coaches' quotes. Also, our communications center staff furnishes a packet of first half action shots — six 5x7 black and white prints which are free upon request.

LOCKER ROOM INTERVIEWS

Bob Bradley will escort those writers wishing to go to the Clemson dressing room, whereas the visiting SID will make the trip to the opponent's dressing area. This usually takes place with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The dressing rooms are located beneath the West end zone stands to your left from the press box.

DANNY FORD'S WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Every Tuesday during the football season, Coach Danny Ford will hold a weekly press conference at the Clemson House beginning at 11:30 a.m.

The first gathering is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 28, prior to the season opener with Appalachian State, and the 13th and final regular season session is planned for Tuesday, Nov. 20, prior to the South Carolina game. The 13 press conferences include two when Clemson has an open date.

DAILY SPORTS REPORT

The Clemson Sports Information Office tapes a 3-minutes daily sports report each morning, Monday through Friday, with emphasis on the sports during their respective seasons. Interviews are conducted with the various coaches, as well as players. To get an up-to-date report on the Tigers, call 803-654-4402.

BEST TIME TO CONTACT COACH DANNY FORD

If you find it impossible to attend his weekly press conference, Coach Danny Ford is usually available for telephone interviews in his office daily, Tuesday through Friday, from 10:30-11:30 a.m., and from 2:30-3:30 p.m. His office number is 803-656-2101, ext. 260.

FALL PRACTICE PLANS

New Clemson players will report to campus August 2. Returning players will report the 8th for physicals. Conditioning for the entire team begins August 9 and the team goes into pads for the first time August 13. The annual Fan Picture Day is set for August 12 in Memorial Stadium.

Items Of Interest You Need To Know

Accommodations

There are two major motels in Clemson proper, the Ramada Inn (803) 654-7501, and the Holiday Inn (803) 654-4450. But, they are booked on game weekends, so if you are in a bind, call Bob Bradley at the sports information office and he will try to pull a few strings.

All-Stars

We've had pretty good luck with All-Americans and all-star candidates over the last three years as eight players have made a first, second or third-team All-America squad in that time. This year Dale Hatcher, William Perry and Mike Eppley are our preseason All-America candidates. So, follow their progress throughout the season (we'll keep you posted with various mailings). Don't forget William Perry when you vote for the Lombardi or Outland Trophies.

Alma Mater

Written by A. C. Corcoran of the class of '19 with music by Dr. Hugh McGarity.

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign Supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

Sports Information Director Bob Bradley has been popular with the media for 30 years.

Alumni Association

Located on the Clemson campus and directed by George Moore. His office number is 656-2345.

Attendance

An ever-changing number at Clemson. With the upper deck addition to the North Stands, the seating capacity at Memorial Stadium is 73,915 permanent seats. That figure does not include 6,000 fans in the east end zone on the green grass area.

The record crowd is 80,615, so we are capable of squeezing about 6,500 on the grass bank or in obscure regions of the aesthetically pleasing (there are countless trees within the confines of the stadium) structure. The attendance progression has been steady over the recent years. In 1977 the capacity was 43,451; in 1978 it went to 53,306 and in 1982 it went up to 57,307. With the addition last year we have now risen 30,444 in capacity since 1977, or a 70.06 percent increase.

In 1975 the average home crowd was 39,174. Last year the average home crowd was 74,557, or about a 90 percent increase over an eight-year period. At this pace, by the year 2000 the average home attendance will be 269,150 per game. We might have to park the cars in Greenville if we keep this up.

Balloons

And, speaking of that record crowd, it took place on November 12, 1983 against Maryland. That was also the day of "Rising Above," as the Clemson fans released a Guinness Book of World Records 363,729 balloons as the Tigers ran down the hill prior to the game.

In all, 250 miles of string, 400 tanks of helium, 195 balloon fillers and over 3,000 students (half of the residential student population) showed up at 7:00 AM to begin the project. The balloons were filled by 11:30 AM and at 12:57 PM, they were released. The entire project cost about 28,000 dollars and it was funded by IPTAY members' private donations. The excess money raised was donated to the library foundation.

Burton, Richard

A reserve junior linebacker from Simpsonville, SC, who at 5-10 is the shortest linebacker on the roster. Also an English actor of some renown, whose credits include small parts in such movies as A Man For All Seasons, Where Eagles Dare, The Robe, and Anthony & Cleopatra.

Bradley, Bob

Now in his 30th year of service as Clemson's Sports Information Director, Bob Bradley is the man who runs the show on game day at Clemson. If you have any problems call him at home (803) 654-5419, or at the office (803) 656-2114. He's been known to arrange police escorts, fix flat tires, or solve just about any member of the media's problems over the years. He has received every award conceivable in his profession, including Most Valuable Fisherman at the ACC Sportswriters meeting at Grandfather Mountain for the last 30 years in a row.

Broadcast Network

Clemson football games can be heard on about 55 radio stations across the Southeast. Jim Phillips is in his 16th year as voice of the Tigers, while Tim Bourret, Clemson's Associate SID, and former Clemson assistant coach Clyde Wrenn are the color analysts. If you have any questions about the network call Allison Dalton at the Clemson athletic department at (803) 656-2101.

Central Spirit

The corps of wild, wacky people that plot the semi-organized activities of the Clemson fanatics. They are responsible for pep rallies, scheduled and impromptu, and general carousing at football games. This year's chairman is Ned Pruitt of Rocky Face, GA.

Clemson's Richard Burton

Hollywood's Richard Burton

Cheerleaders

Ranked third in the nation in last year's national competition held in Dallas, TX. Unlike the Clemson football team, which was ranked 11th in the final AP poll, the cheerleaders have few returnees, including a completely new female squad.

Cheerleading

Totally forbidden in the Clemson press box. Violators will have to meet the wrath of Bob Bradley.

Chewing Tobacco

In addition to having successful football teams as a common denominator between Danny Ford and Frank Howard, they also chew tobacco at an alarming rate. Ford chews two kinds basically, Taylor's Pride on game days and Red Man during the week. Howard stays with Red Man most of the time, although if anyone wants to give him a case of another brand he will be glad to sample it for you.

Colors

Burnt orange and Northwest purple officially, but you will see a lot of white and blue. The Clemson orange is PMS 165 and the blue used on the trim of the stadium is Reflex Blue and is PMS 541.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members, in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that. Clemson has been a charter member of every conference it has been affiliated with.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981 and 1982. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948.

Copeland, Sam

There are many legends who work in the Clemson football press box, one is Sam Copeland. A former student assistant under Bob Bradley, Copeland drives every weekend of a home game from Florence, SC (about three and a half hours) to type the play-by-play for Tiger football games. He's been doing this for years and all media covering Clemson football hope he continues because he does a flawless job.

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gain a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on.

Defense

A 5-2-4 alignment is the most often used, but Clemson has had much success using a "Bandit" defensive end out of this formation. Andy Headen played the position superbly in 1981 and 1982 and he has moved on to the New York Giants. Terence Mack, who like Headen wears number 12, has continued the tradition.

Draftees

A total of six players were taken from Clemson by the NFL drafters last season. Clemson has now had 32 players chosen in the NFL draft since the 1979 pow-wow of poohbahs in New York. Last year Clemson had 17 players on active NFL rosters, the 13th best total in the nation.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (803) 656-2110. The Clemson University police number is (803) 656-2222.

Enrollment

Clemson is the third smallest school in the ACC when it comes to student numbers (only Wake Forest and Duke are smaller). The enrollment figure currently is 12,459, and that counts everyone, undergrads, graduates, dogs, cats, and amoebas in the biology lab.

Esso Club

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole. This is where the true Clemson fan hangs out before and after a game. Jacket and tie are definitely not required.

Faculty Representative

Dr. B. J. Skelton is the faculty rep for Clemson, a position he took over in 1983. His office phone number is (803) 656-2283.

Fall Practice

Believe it or not, Clemson freshmen must report to camp on August 3rd. It gets earlier and earlier every year. Soon the Clemson Spring game will be held on the day of the ACC basketball tournament championship. The veterans report to Clemson on August 8th, with workouts beginning August 10th and hitting in pads starts August 13th. The annual fan appreciation day will be held Sunday, August 12th.

Field

The football field for Clemson football and all NCAA games is exactly 120 yards from endline to endline and 100 yards from end zone to end zone in length. The width of the field is 160 feet. The Tigers have always played on a natural grass surface at home.

Film Clip Service

Each week the Clemson SID office and the Communications Center put together a 10-play highlight package of the previous week's game complete with script on the enclosed plays. The video tape is available for TV stations by calling Bob Bradley at (803) 656-2114, or Tom Shockley (803) 656-3204.

Food

Some of the finest Southern cuisine is available at Clemson football games, but you get only one trip through the line so make the most of it. The menu features fried chicken, sliced roast beef, ham and turkey, lettuce, tomato, various cheeses, chili and hot dogs. And don't forget the world-famous butterscotch brownies, but don't ask for the recipe — it's a secret.

Football Secretaries

June Roach and Elaine Swearingen are the real coaches of the Clemson football staff and Clemson has defeated arch-rival South Carolina four straight seasons and seven out of eight.

are totally responsible for all correspondence, complaints, controversy, wins and losses. They do a superb job and usually carry out all duties in as humorous a manner as possible. They can be reached at (803) 656-2101, ext 260. But, don't call them to set up interviews, call the SID office.

G.E.

Popular name of a refrigerator, it is the nickname of Clemson's All-America middle guard William Perry. A former Clemson teammate, Ray Brown, gave him the name in 1981 because his size resembles that of a refrigerator.

Goalpost

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts which are 20' or more in height and 23'4" apart. The crossbar is 10' high. The Clemson student body tore down the goalposts in the end zone with the grass bank after Clemson's emotional 52-27 win over Maryland last year. The estimated cost of the zealous act was $2,000.

Homecoming Queen

Beth Cousins won the Homecoming Queen title last fall at Clemson. She was the second straight blond cheerleader to win the honor, which is voted on by the Clemson student body and awarded at Tigerama. She is following in the tradition of blond homecoming queens that was started in 1977 when Shawn Weatherly took the crown. She went on to become Miss Universe and is now a television personality with ABC.

Homecoming Results

Clemson fans get especially fired up on Homecoming and the result has been a 12-0-1 record since 1970. Here are the year-by-year Homecoming results since 1922.

Howard, Frank

Frank Howard is the legend of Clemson football and he still comes to work every day in the Clemson Athletic Department. His office number in the Jervey Athletic Center is (803) 656-2100. Give him a call for some great quotes, information on Clemson football history, or to take out an advertisement in Kickoff.

Interview Policy

Interviews during the week for Clemson players or coaches should be arranged through Sports Information Director Bob Bradley. Call us for your request and we will get the player to call you collect. Sorry, no home numbers of players will be distributed because too many media have had a tendency to call for midnight interviews.

IPTAY

Athletic scholarship fund-raising organization that has been as successful as any in the country, and is the main reason for Clemson's strong alumni and subway alumni support. It is the number-one fund-raising organization in the nation, having raised $5.1 million last year from its 20,000 members.

Kelly-Bishop, Kim

What ever happened to the All-America promoter, Kim Kelly. A year ago last May she became Kim Kelly-Bishop and moved to Spartanburg with her husband, Bill Bishop. She's in the public relations field as PR director of Spartan Foods, but she and her husband still come back to help out in the press box during Clemson football games. Call her if your Hardee's hamburgers are overdone.

Kessinger, Kassie

The newest full-time member of the Clemson SID office is Kassie Kessinger, Kim Kelly's replacement. A former assistant SID at Kentucky, she will be enjoying her first football season at Clemson this year (Bob Bradley likes to hire women with KK initials). Contact her for Kentucky Derby and 1985 Final Four tickets. She's taking flying lessons and would probably offer to fly you to Lexington if you supply the aircraft. She is not related to former Chicago Cubs shortstop Don Kessinger.

Frank Howard still comes into his office in the Jervey Athletic Center daily.

The Clemson Tiger does pushups after every Clemson score.

Kickoff

All Clemson home football games kick off at 1:00 P.M. It's been this way for some time with the exception of the 1979 Maryland game when ABC moved the time of the game to 3:20 P.M.

Lights

We've got them, but don't use them. Yes, there are lights at Clemson Memorial Stadium, but the investment was made strictly for future television games. Clemson fans come from all over and like the 1:00 P.M. start because they can come and go the same day. So, you won't see any night games at Clemson unless television gets involved.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it, go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Mascot

The Clemson Tiger is one of the most famous and glamorous mascot positions in the country. He kisses homecoming queens, chases chickens, cavorts with officials, stirs a crowd, and sets pushup records from week to week. Check tapes of the 1981 Wake Forest game and you'll see a record-breaking performance few Clemson athletes have achieved, 476 pushups. Jay Watson is in his first year as the starting Tiger.

McGuire, Don

The producer and director and general boss when RAYCOM comes to Clemson to cover a Tiger football game. He has worked in sports information and has tooled for all three major networks in some capacity in the last 10 years. If you have any questions about RAYCOM, call him in Charlotte at (704) 365-4600. He is an Oklahoma fan, but don't hold that against him.

There is no truth to the rumor that he is a relative of former South Carolina coach Frank McGuire.

McJunkin, Joe

Feisty elevator operator at the Clemson press box. He has served in this capacity since 1958, or since Clemson has had a press box elevator. Don't cross him if you don't have your press pass, it's a long fall from the press level deck to the bottom of the elevator shaft.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

National Champions

Believe it or not, we were in 1981.

Offense

Basic I-formation attack that relies on the running game. Clemson ran the ball overall 75.6 percent of the time in 1983. The 1981 team ran the ball 77.5 percent of the time. But, with a 30-2-2 record over the last three seasons, no one is complaining.

Orange & White

Independent publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its sixth season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. To contact the publisher, Phil Batson, call (803) 654-6553.

Press Guide

The Clemson football guide was voted second in the nation by CoSIDA last year, the highest finish ever for this publication. This verbose section might have had something to do with it according to the judges. The Notre Dame football guide, which is thicker than the Clemson phone book (5/8 of an inch to 1/2 an inch), won first place.

Press Passes

These can get scarce, especially the South Carolina and North Carolina games. For all photo, press, TV, parking, and men's room passes contact Bob Bradley. His number is (803) 656-2114. Please make your requests at least two weeks in advance. Wives and children of media are not allowed in the press box.

Pepper

Legendary member of the Clemson unofficial photo crew, who also puts in some time in the press box. Unmistakable when wearing his full orange suit on game day. Owns more cameras than Carter has liver pills.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" in his 16th year doing Clemson Football. Won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting in 1982 when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. Broadcasted most of that game while standing up with a walker.

Promotions

Anything related to promotions, wild hats that buzz, or clocks that play Tiger Rag, should be handled through Allison Dalton. His number is (803) 656-2101. He is responsible for Clemson's licensing program and will answer your questions in the advertising and promotional realm.

Red-shirts

Danny Ford has successfully used the NCAA red-shirt rules to everyone's advantage over the last couple of years. The extra year of experience has given his teams more depth. At the same time, his players are allowed to stretch their academic progress over a five-year period and it gives them a better chance of graduating. Of the 102 players on the returning varsity roster, 61 of them have red-shirted because of injury, coach or player's decision. Three on the current roster red-shirted in 1980, nine in 1981, 25 in 1982 and 24 in 1983. A total of 26 red-shirted in 1982, the most ever (one has already graduated). Rhodes, Jeff

After what seemed like two decades as a student assistant, Jeff Rhodes has finally graduated. He made the walk at graduation last May, much to the surprise of Dr. Atchley. Jeff needed a 2.0 to graduate and had a 2.04. Yes, it came down to the last final.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to run Down the Hill (see Running down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50, the team boards two busses and drives around the periphery of the Stadium to the East side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 174 times.

Section GG

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill).

Tailgate Show

When you are driving to Clemson football games get an advance on what is happening in Tigertown with the Tailgate Show. It starts on the airways about three hours before gametime and is highlighted by special guests, prizes, phone calls, music, game notes, interviews, and just about anything that has to do with a Clemson football weekend.

Russ Cassell, Allison Dalton and Jane Robelot are your hosts. Russ and Allison sit on a stage outside of Littlejohn Coliseum and Jane is your roving reporter in a golf cart. Cassell is the popular morning man on WFBC-FM and is the type of guy who could make money opening a grits store in South Dakota. Dalton is Clemson's Assistant AD for marketing and has been involved with the tailgate show since 1980.

Cassell is the real key to Clemson's success recently. The Tigers have not lost a home football game when he has done a tailgate show prior to the game (17-0-2). Robelot is a Clemson graduate who is host of Carolina Noon, a program on the local CBS affiliate. She has moved up the ladder quickly and gives Jane Pauley many sleepless nights.

Tigerama

World's largest pep rally, this is one of the best examples of Clemson spirit. The Friday night before Homecoming about 35,000 people come to Memorial Stadium for a combination pep rally, beauty pageant and skit presentation. Last year about 36,000 people attended the rally, which is more than the average home football attendance for over half the schools in the ACC. Jane Robelot and Russ Cassell will be the co-hosts this year.

Two-on-the-Fifty

Most often used request heard by Clemson Ticket Manager Van Hilderbrand. He has a few more tickets to juggle, with the double deck on both sides, but they still will be hard to come by for North Carolina and South Carolina. His number is (803) 656-2118.

Two-sport Athletes

Danny Ford doesn't mind allowing his football players to play another sport at Clemson (although check his reaction when Mike Eppley was carried off the basketball court during a 1982 game with South Carolina). Last year 12 football players played other sports. Here is a list of the active players on the Clemson football team who have lettered in another sport at some time in their careers.

Shelton Boyer — Track
Sebo Browning — Track
Mike Eppley — Basketball
Kenny Flowers — Track
Steve Griffin — Track
Delton Hall — Track
Donald Igwebuike — Soccer
Brian Raber — Wrestling
Jody Sease — Track
Ray Williams — Baseball

VIP Boxes

The Dallas Cowboys have nothing on us. Clemson Memorial Stadium has over 100 private luxury boxes just under the upper decks on each side of the field. All are furnished with a television, stereo system, and at least eight seats to view a game in a plush atmosphere. Most of the boxes are owned by corporations as they go for an average of $80,000 a shot over a six-year period.

The most exciting 25 seconds in college football.

Uproar '84

As Clemson football continues to progress the Tigers' head coach has developed more and more common denominators with Indiana Jones. Clemson Ford will have to travel deeper and deeper into his Temple of Doom in 1984, as he will not be able to sneak up on any predators . . . they'll be waiting for him. A 30-2-2 record, three straight finishes in the top 11 in the final AP poll, 19 straight wins over ACC teams, a 20-game unbeaten streak at home and a number-two preseason rating in Sporting News have forced the ACC's answers to Beloch and Kamaal to gun for Clemson Ford and his team this fall.

But unlike Jones, Ford will have more than a pretty blond and young boy to help him fight his battles this fall. No less than 15 starters (not including All-American William Perry) and 51 lettermen return to take on all comers, as the Tigers fight to continue their adventure through their own Temple of Doom, striving to reach the company of the almighty super powers of college football.

"We need to keep this streak going if we are going to be recognized among the top college football powers," said Head Coach Danny Ford. "We have accomplished quite a bit in the last three years, but the highly-regarded major powers have sustained that tradition over a longer period of time. We are striving for that longevity and need to continue our fine record this year without any letdown.

"Overall, we have some talented players returning. We lost some pretty good seniors from a class that won 36 games and they will be missed. Last spring we found some replacements and in a lot of cases some young players will have to come forward. If we continue to do the fundamentals well like we have over the last three years we have a chance to have another excellent year. In the last three years we have ranked in the top 10 in the nation in turnover margin, and that might be the most important statistic other than the final score. It is an indication of how well a team does the basics and that has been as much a reason for our success as anything."

THE OFFENSE (9 of 12 starters return, 26 offensive lettermen back, nine lost)

The leader of the Clemson offense in 1984 will be All-America candidate Mike Eppley. One of only three basketball-football starters in the nation in Division I of the NCAA last year, Eppley had a brilliant junior season as he completed 99 of 166 passes for 1,410 yards and a school-record 13 touchdowns. The native of Charlotte, NC had an efficiency rating of 146 in 1983, the third best figure in the nation and the best in the ACC . . . yes, better than Boomer Esiason, Scott Stankavage and Ben Bennett. The efficiency rating was the highest ever by a Clemson quarterback and his .596 completion percentage was also the best in Clemson history. A proven winner and leader, Clemson is 14-1-1 with Eppley as the starting quarterback over the last two seasons.

Eppley should have another fine group of running backs behind him this year as the ground game has been the staple of the Clemson offense for the last six years. Kevin Mack was the leading rusher as a senior in 1983 with 862 yards, the most ever by a Tiger fullback, and his presence will be missed.

Two players who combined for 1,331 yards at the tailback position, plus a red-shirt who was the leading rusher on the club at the time of his injury, do return to lead the backfield. Stacey Driver gained 774 yards and had a 5.3 average last season in finishing second to Mack in the rushing race. The 5-8 scatback finished the season strong with 110 yards against South Carolina and he averaged 96 yards a game over the last four contests. Kenny Flowers also saw time at tailback and picked up 557 yards and a 4.4 yard average. He gained 124 yards against Georgia Tech and scored three touchdowns, the latter accomplishment a first for a Clemson freshman. Flowers is 6-0 and 205 and will move to the starting fullback this season, a position he worked at this past spring.

Terrence Flagler was pacing the Clemson rushing ladder after two games with 201 yards and a 6.5 average until a knee injury suffered at Boston College shelved him for the season. He is a swift runner who certainly will challenge to regain his starting assignment. Flagler was the offensive MVP of the Spring Game with 61 yards and two TDs. Steve Griffin, another red-shirt from last year who lettered as a freshman in 1982, was the best all-around back in spring practice.

Danny Ford played on three Alabama teams that defeated Clemson between 1967 and 1969.

Eldridge Milton

While Clemson ran the ball 75.5 percent of the time last year and has kept the ball on the ground 76 percent of the time over the last three seasons, the Tigers will throw the ball to some outstanding receivers. It might be the best group of young receivers in the nation as players who caught 88 percent of the passes last year return for 1984.

Ray Williams was the leading pass catcher as a freshman, one of five freshmen who caught passes. Also a member of the Clemson baseball team, Williams caught 19 passes for 342 yards and a pair of TDs. Classmate Terrance Roulhac was one of only two 1983 freshmen who did not red-shirt a year ago and he snared 15 passes for 214 yards and four touchdowns. Shelton Boyer, one of the top high jumpers in the ACC in track, senior Richard Butler, Clemson's best blocker among receivers, and sophomore Pat Charleston are other outstanding receivers on this Clemson team.

Clemson had the best tight end in the ACC a year ago in K. D. Dunn. He might have been the most improved tight end in the league also as the All-ACC performer led the team in touchdown receptions with five and was second on the team in receptions with 17 for 236 yards. The outstanding blocker is one of two returning first-team All-ACC players on this club.

Clemson's only lost starter in the offensive line was James Farr, but he is a big loss because the 245-pound guard was a third-team All-American and the winner of the Jacob's Blocking Trophy, emblematic of the top offensive lineman in the ACC. However, he was the only letterman lost in the offensive line and 11 lettermen return to battle for the berths at the five positions.

Reid Ingle was an all-state player last year, but his accolades should increase dramatically this year. The native of Calhoun, GA has started the last 12 Clemson games and has appeared in every game the last two seasons at the left tackle position. Dale Swing, Clemson's starting center, is another all-star candidate in the offensive line. He graded in the seventies in all but two games last year and started every game.

Jeff Cruce and Joe Ellis should battle for the other tackle slot. Cruce started most of last year and missed action only because of injury, while Ellis was a top reserve. Both are seniors and both are big. Cruce will go at 6-7, 260 and Ellis, who was the top offensive lineman last spring, is 6-4, 260.

While Farr is a big loss at guard, Clemson has two experienced guards returning in Andy Cheatham and Steve Reese. Reese was the highest graded lineman last year among 1984 returnees and is a future All-American. Both split time as starters at right guard a year ago and one will probably move to Farr's left side in 1984. Wes Mann is another returning letterman at the position. Robbie Chapman, Jon Peterson, Jim Redding and Neal Turlington are four offensive linemen who red-shirted a year ago as freshmen and will get their chance to show their collective talent this fall.

Donald Igwebuike should be Clemson's number-one kicker, a position he held with distinction with the national champions of 1981. The native of Nigeria kicked 10 field goals for that 1981 club and is 16-26 for his career. He has a powerful leg and has booted the longest field goal in the ACC in each of the last three seasons. The 5-9 kicker has also demonstrated his powerful leg on kickoffs, a chore he has handled for three seasons. Last year 47 of his 66 kickoffs were not returned.

THE DEFENSE (6 of 12 starters returning, 25 lettermen return, 13 lettermen lost)

Two-time All-American William Perry returns for his senior season at middle guard, but, ironically, it is the defensive line that has Danny Ford worried. Clemson must replace three starters and five four-year lettermen in the line. William Devane, Ray Brown, Jim Scott, James Robinson and Edgar Pickett combined for 650 tackles in their careers, including 285 last season. Robinson and Pickett were All-ACC performers and Robinson was a second-team All-American.

Perry is a candidate for both the Outland and Lombardi Trophies this season. The senior from Aiken, SC needs only six sacks and 13 tackles for loss to become Clemson's all-time leader in those categories. Last year the consensus All-American had 61 tackles with six sacks and a team-high 13 tackles for loss. Perry now has 33 tackles behind the line of scrimmage in his career. And, he has reached these totals playing only half the time as William Devane, who might have been the second best middle guard in the South, split time with the 305-pound Perry. Ironically, Perry is not a returning starter as 1983 senior William Devane started seven times last year.

Several players will challenge for the starting tackle slots. Steve Berlin is a sound candidate as he made more tackles on the Clemson front-line than any sophomore. The native of Bethel Park, PA made a strong improvement and had 31 stops for the season, including a key safety against N. C. State and a nine-tackle effort against Georgia.

Many red-shirted freshmen from last season should see time in the line. Tony Stephens was a very highly regarded defensive tackle out of high school, as was William Perry's brother Michael. Perry is listed as a starter off an excellent spring and he will be beside his brother this year. Stephens broke a wrist last spring and lost experience. Both are over 260 pounds and performed well in practice last season. John Jansen, a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete winner who red-shirted last season, sophomore red-shirt Jody Sease and sophomore letterman Chuck Sanford should also challenge for a starting berth.

Terence Mack, the starter at the bandit position, and Jeff Wells, a senior who was a top reserve a year ago, should be the starters at the defensive end positions. Mack took over right where Andy Headen had left off and picked up 39 tackles, only 14 fewer than Headen had when he was a senior. The sophomore should team with Wells, who had 36 tackles behind Pickett last season. Wells, a native of Georgia, is one of the top athletes on the team, as he has started at tight end during his Clemson career. Craig Crawford and Ken Brown are other returning lettermen at the defensive end position, while Ken Setzekorn, Brian Raber (converted back from tight end), Quintin Klutz and Lawrence Brunson are talented defensive end candidates.

The linebacker slot was supposed to be a problem last season as Ford was forced to start freshmen and sophomores. This might be the most solid position for the next three years now because Henry Walls and Keith Williams had excellent rookie seasons and rising junior Eldridge Milton had a banner year.

Walls had the best year of the three as he became the first Clemson freshman in history to lead the team in tackles (93). The native of Southmont, NC is only 215 pounds but is one of the quickest linebackers around. He had a season-high and Clemson freshman record 20 tackles at Boston College last season. Milton started eight of the 11 games alongside Walls and had 78 tackles to tie for third on the team in that important category. Williams started the season as a number-one linebacker, but injuries put him behind at times. He still had 72 stops to finish third among the linebackers and the tackle total is the second best ever by a Clemson freshman.

All total, Danny Ford did not have a senior among his linebackers so there is great depth. Chuckie Richardson is a leader in this year's group of linebackers and he will be counted on for a fine senior season. Kevin Gemas is another returning senior letterman, while John Phillips and Duane Walker are two red-shirted freshmen who will challenge for playing time.

Danny Ford must find some strong safeties, that is his secondary priority this fall. Jeff Suttle and Tim Childers were reliable performers for four seasons. Mike Isaacs, Richard Donaldson and Kenny Danforth are all returning strong safeties who have lettered and they will be given a shot at that position. Bo Holloman is a red-shirted freshman who has played the safety positions in his career.

Clemson's best secondary player should be senior Ronald Watson. A hard hitter for three seasons, Watson had 78 tackles in 1983, the most by a Clemson secondary player, and he had nine passes broken up, the second best total on the club.

Reggie Pleasant and Ty Davis should be starting on the corners as the duo started 11 games between them last year. Davis led the team in interceptions with four, while Pleasant picked off two and had 26 tackles. Delton Hall was a solid player on special teams as a freshman and Perry Williams is a rising sophomore who could start.

Dale Hatcher was seventh in the nation in punting a year ago, but did not lead the league. He has to work in the premier punting conference in the nation as three ACC punters finished in the top nine in the nation in 1983. Hatcher had a 43.6 yard average a year ago, the second best figure in Clemson history and he is Clemson's career leader in punting average and net punting coming into the season. Only 32 percent of his punts have been returned over the last three seasons.

Clemson enters this season with an eight-game winning streak, the fifth best streak in Clemson history and only 7 wins away from tying the school record.

An Interview With Danny Ford

Q. What was a high priority area of work for your football team last spring?

"The defensive line was a high priority area for us because we lost three solid starters in the defensive line. This has been a key area for us in recent years and a reason we have done so well. We must replace William Devane, James Robinson, Edgar Pickett, Jim Scott and Ray Brown, all of whom played a big part in our record over the last few years. We will get a good look at some red-shirted freshmen from last season and they will have to come through for us if we are to be successful this fall. Michael Perry and Steve Berlin had excellent springs and should help us considerably."

Q. Do you plan to throw a little more this fall, especially with Eppley coming back?

"We like to keep the ball on the ground and dictate what we want to do offensively. We do want to strive, however, to be a little more balanced this season. We have an experienced quarterback returning in Mike Eppley and I have faith in our young receivers. We have a good group of running backs returning also so we should give our backs a lot of work this year. We must replace Kevin Mack at fullback, probably the greatest producer at that position we have had since I've been at Clemson."

Q. What does it mean to have Mike Eppley back for another season?

"A difference between this spring and last spring is the fact that we have a proven quarterback returning for the fall. We have great confidence in Mike Eppley and he is one of our team leaders. He had great stats last year, but he also has fine leadership qualities. I don't want to slight Anthony Par-ete, we feel good about him coming into the fall and his presence gives us two experienced quarterbacks. Anthony got a lot of work this past spring — and did well. Overall, we are looking for Mike to make us a more explosive offense and to continue the pace he set last year."

Q. What do you have planned for the backfield this fall in terms of personnel changes?

"We will try to give each running back an equal opportunity. We are far more established at that position this year coming into the season and we have more confidence in their abilities. We will move Kenny Flowers into the fullback slot. We gave him a look at that position this spring and he adjusted to the position. We hope to use the fullback with success like we did with Kevin Mack last season, and we think Flowers has the speed and power to do the job."

Q. What are the overall strengths and weaknesses of this 1984 team?

"We should be strong offensively because we have nine starters back. We must replace Kevin Mack, our leading rusher, and James Farr, the best offensive lineman in the ACC. We are in a lot better shape offensively at this time this year than we were at this time a year ago."

"Defensively we must fill in some holes in the defensive line and the strong safety. We have to fill in at strong safety because we had two fine seniors there a year ago. We have the same problem there this year that we had at linebacker a year ago. In a lot of ways we are in a vice-versa situation from last season when we had so many veterans returning on defense."

Q. How much does William Perry mean to your team?

"We will rely on William Perry for a lot of leadership this year. He can do anything on the field when he sets his mind to it and the other players on the squad look to him. He is one of the most mobile players at his position in the nation and we are looking for him to have another All-America season. Since he has been here we are 30-2-2 and he has confidence in the team in close games because winning has become a habit."

Q. What are the goals for this team?

"We want to reach our potential, that is the goal for any team. On paper we would like to extend our home unbeaten streak, and continue our winning streak against ACC teams. We have a lot of good seniors on this team and this spring the chain of command changed over. This group has a lot to live up to because the past three classes have set quite a pace."

Q. What about your receiving crop for this season?

"This is the best young group of receivers I have had since coming to Clemson. Ray Williams, Terrance Roulhac, Shelton Boyer, etc., they are all excellent athletes and all are sophomores. They made some great catches last year in clutch situations, they can make the big play and that is something I look for."

Q. How much of an impact does your recent success have on the tradition of this school?

"We are all proud of what we have done in the last three years and the standards are now set for the future. We hope to keep pace with that tradition this year. People are now coming to our school because the tradition is on the rise. The tradition has been here a long time, but I think we have enhanced it in recent years and it gives the players that little extra."

Q. Comment on your incoming freshmen for this season.

"We think we have a good class coming in. They are the biggest class we have signed in terms of height and average weight. We wanted to fill the holes left by the seniors last season and feel if some of them can compete with the veterans we will be that much stronger. We really don't want to go into the fall depending on a freshman to come right in and play a great deal, but if one or two do we will be that much stronger."

Q. What are your feelings concerning your high preseason ranking?

"You like to have a preseason ranking because it is an example of what your tradition level and respect level is. Having a high preseason ranking means we are moving up the ladder of football powers. It does add some pressure and we won't be able to sneak up on anyone anymore. But, we have been the team to beat in the ACC for the last few years so we are used to that role."

The University

History

The death on April 6, 1888, of Thomas Green Clemson set in motion a series of events which marked the start of a new era in higher education in the state of South Carolina — especially the future of scientific higher education in agriculture and the engineering sciences.

Mr. Clemson's passing set the stage for the founding of the university which bears his name — the beginning of a true "people's university" which opened the doors of higher education to all South Carolinians, rich and poor alike. Mr. Clemson, son-in-law of South Carolina's famous statesman, John C. Calhoun, was a prominent scientist of his time who was especially interested in scientific agriculture.

Mr. Clemson had a lifelong interest in farming and agricultural affairs. He served as the country's superintendent of agricultural affairs (predecessor to the present secretary of agriculture position), and actively promoted the establishment and endowment of the Maryland Agricultural College in the 1850s.

He once wrote, "The only hope we have for the advancement of agriculture (in the U.S.) is through the sciences and yet there is not one single institution on this continent where a proper scientific education can be obtained." Although he never lived to see it, his dedicated efforts culminated in the founding of Clemson Agricultural College.

Mr. Clemson provided in his will that the Fort Hill plantation and a considerable sum from his personal assets be used to establish an educational institution of the kind he envisioned. He left a cash endowment of about $80,000 and his Fort Hill estate of 814 acres to the state of South Carolina for its establishment.

The initial expense of creating an agricultural college, which had been one of the biggest obstacles to the project, was removed by the Clemson gift.

In November 1889, Governor Richardson signed the bill accepting Thomas Clemson's bequest. Following this, a measure was introduced to establish the Clemson Agricultural College, with its trustees becoming custodians of Morrill Act and Hatch Act funds made available for agricultural education and research purposes by federal legislative acts.

Clemson College formally opened in July 1893 with an enrollment of 446. From the beginning the college was an all-male military school. It remained this way until 1955, when the change was made to "civilian" status for students and Clemson became a coeducational institution.

University Governance

The University is governed by a board of 13 members, including six elected by the state legislature and seven self-perpetuating life members, in accord with the will of Thomas G. Clemson. The board is primarily responsible for setting policy and approving budgets and expenditures. The University's day-to-day operations are administered by its president; vice presidents for academic affairs, business and finance, student affairs, and institutional advancement; and the president's executive staff.

Campus

The University campus, located on the former plantation of statesman John C. Calhoun, consists of 1,400 acres and represents an insured value of approximately $332 million in academic and administrative buildings, student, staff and faculty housing, athletic and service facilities, and equipment. While offering excellent modern facilities, the University retains its air of tradition through such landmarks as Fort Hill, the home of the Calhouns and Clemsons, Tillman Hall with its clock tower, the statue of Thomas Clemson and the Outdoor Theater.

The campus is surrounded by 20,860 acres of University farms and woodlands devoted to research in forestry, agriculture and agricultural engineering. In addition, 10,447 acres throughout the state are devoted to Agricultural Experiment Station research and 4-H Club work, for a total of 31,307 real estate acres.

Other Facts

- The average SAT score of Clemson freshmen last fall (1,014) is the highest of any public college or university in South Carolina. That's 216 points above the average S. C. score, and 121 points above the national average.

- Among the many distinguished recipients of honorary degrees from the University are syndicated columnist Jenkin Lloyd Jones; architect R. Buckminster Fuller; Wall Street financier Bernard Baruch; nuclear physicist Edward Teller; and U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond.
- Clemson's College of Engineering is the state's largest and leads in degree production, size of faculty and research expenditures. It's the university's most popular curriculum today. With 3,492 students, engineering majors make up one-third of the undergraduate student body.
- Clemson's Computer Center operates one of the world's largest time-sharing networks in the world, and Clemson students have more and better access to computing power than students at most any other American university.

Dale Hatcher is the first player in Clemson history to average at least 40 yards a punt in three different seasons.

IPTAY has begun the second 50 years of a long and successful journey. From a very modest beginning in 1934 with only 162 members, this athletic scholarship fund-raising group has grown into 20,000 loyal Tiger supporters. IPTAY is recognized as the number-one group of its kind in America. But what is behind the success of IPTAY?

The reason is people — people who are committed to a successful program at Clemson University, both on and off the field. Professors, athletes, administrators, managers, trainers, alumni, and friends all play a part in this success. The results which have been produced are something we can all be proud of in this search for excellence at Clemson University.

The on-going search for excellence in the academic area at Clemson University has resulted in the awarding of the Fulbright Scholarship for graduates to study overseas to 5 of 6 Clemson applicants. In addition, a Guggenheim Scholarship was awarded to another Clemson graduate. Of the 320 valedictorians in South Carolina high schools, over 120 were accepted to Clemson University. Furthermore, a building program is being instituted on campus that will include a new chemistry building, as well as the expansion of several other departments.

That search for excellence is further exemplified by the efforts of the 20,000 IPTAY members who contributed to the total of $5.1 million in 1983. These monies enabled over 440 athletes, managers, and trainers to receive scholarship aid to attend Clemson.

These athletes also have the strong commitment to excellence that Clemson supporters both deserve and desire. The Tiger football team has the best three-year record in college football at 30-2-2. Soccer, men's cross country, women's cross country, baseball, men's tennis, and women's tennis were all Top 20 teams, while men's cross country, women's and men's tennis were conference champions. Swimming and wrestling enjoyed their best seasons ever. There were 13 All-Americans and 56 all-conference performers competing for Clemson, in addition to 18 athletes that qualified for the Olympic trials. There is no doubt that Clemson athletics enjoyed one of its best years ever.

IPTAY certainly was a major reason for these accomplishments. But, what is IPTAY other than scholarships? And how has Clemson University benefited from these 50 years of service? The Clemson IPTAY Club has a board of directors led by President Bill Reaves, Vice President Lawrence Starkey, and Secretary-Treasurer Jim Patterson.

Under the direction of these men, the main purpose of IPTAY continues to be raising monies for athletic scholarships; and thanks to the foresight of Athletic Director Bill McLellan and the support of the Board of Directors, many improvements have taken place on campus which are of benefit not only to athletes and fans of athletics, but to the academic area of our University as well.

Specific areas of improvement in recent years include installing lights on Riggs Field; building a new baseball facility (with lights to be added in 1985); funding Tiger Band travel; funding the annual Sport and Society Symposium; donating over $200,000 to the President's Fund; and developing the East Beach area enjoyed by all Clemson students.

The attitude of Clemson people, especially those associated with IPTAY, is, "success is a journey, not a destination." The search for excellence continues at Clemson and, thanks to the continued support of 20,000 IPTAY supporters, the excellence in athletics will continue. As IPTAY begins the second 50 years of service to Clemson, one may wonder what the future holds. According to Joe Turner, Executive Secretary of IPTAY, "the love, sincerity, and support of the Clemson people give a unique quality to Clemson. It is for this reason the success the Tigers now enjoy will continue."

After 22 consecutive years of record-breaking support, there is no doubt that Clemson will remain number-one.

Sports Program

The overall sports program at Clemson has continued to reach new heights of success in the last decade and the '83-'84 season was no exception. The Clemson program finished eighth in the 1984 Knoxville Journal All-Sports Poll, the fifth time in the last six years Clemson had a Top 10 finish.

The football team capped off another highly successful season with a 9-1-1 mark as Danny Ford continued to build his program into a national powerhouse. An added highlight to the season was the team's 11th place finish in the final AP football poll, which marked the third consecutive year that the Tigers have completed their season in the top 11. The Georgia Bulldogs and Nebraska Cornhuskers are the only other two teams in the country that can make that claim. Over the last three years Clemson has accumulated a 30-2-2 mark for a 91.2 winning percentage.

But football was not the only sport in which the Tigers were successful. Six other teams finished in the Top 20 in the nation in their respective sports' final polls. The men's cross country team finished fourth, while the women's team finished seventh. Both of these rankings were the highest ratings ever attained at season's end by either squad. The soccer team finished 12th, making it the eleventh time in twelve years that the soccer team has finished in the Top 20.

The men's tennis team concluded another successful season and finished 10th, which marked the fifth consecutive year that the tennis team finished in the Top 10. The women's tennis squad finished 15th, which makes the seventh time in the team's nine-year existence that they finished in the Top 20. The golf team made its third straight NCAA tournament appearance and finished 19th.

On the individual level, the Clemson program continued to excel, as 13 athletes received All-America status in '83-'84. Additionally, 56 athletes reaped All-ACC honors.

Three Clemson athletes were MVPs or individual champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and three others were chosen for national awards. Freshman sensation and NCAA tournament finalist Lawson Duncan took National Rookie-of-the-Year honors in men's tennis, while his teammate, Rick Rudeen, was awarded the National Sportsmanship (Osuna) Trophy.

Jamie Swanner, a member of the 1984 Olympic team, was recognized in soccer as the National Goalkeeper-of-the-Year. Jane Forman and Adubarie Otorubio won ACC most valuable player honors in women's tennis and soccer, respectively. Hans Koeleman won the ACC individual championship, ACC MVP and the District championship in cross country. Clemson has not lost at home since November 8, 1980 when UNC stopped the Tigers 24-19.

Tiger Radio Network

While the Clemson player record for starts in a career may be impressive, it doesn't hold a candle to the mark set by the radio voice of the Tigers, Jim Phillips. Going into 1984, Phillips' record stands at 175 Clemson football games and an incredible 446 Tiger basketball frays in the last 16 years. His voice is synonymous with Clemson athletics and his staccato and accurate style has described the action since 1968.

Quite knowledgeable in football, Phillips is equally well-versed and successful in his account of Clemson basketball and baseball play-off games. In 1982-83, Phillips' streak of 386 straight basketball games was broken as he could not be in two places at the same time. He missed the basketball season opener in the Great Alaska Shootout because he was in Tokyo, Japan, describing the Tiger football team's ACC Championship-clinching victory in the Mirage Bowl. Phillips did not miss another game the rest of that season, and he is now closing in on his 450th career Tiger basketball game.

Phillips is regarded as one of the best broadcasters in the South and dedication is one of his watchwords. This devotion to his job was never more evident than at the 1982 Western Carolina football game when he aired the contest just five days after disc surgery. He did the game standing up with a walker the entire afternoon, but radio listeners never knew the difference.

Phillips is a past president of the Atlantic Coast Conference Sportswriter's Association and he also serves as the host of Clemson football and basketball coaches' shows on radio and television. He was also a veteran of a dozen years as sports director on WFBC-TV. Phillips is a five-time winner of the Sportscaster-of-the-Year award in South Carolina.

A native of Youngstown, OH, Phillips is also the sports director of WFBC-Radio in Greenville, SC, where he hosts a successful sports talk show that airs weeknights, and he is also the play-by-play announcer for the Greenville Braves, a AA franchise of the Atlanta Braves.

Prior to coming to Greenville, Phillips did play-by-play for Kent State University in both football and basketball for two years. During that period, he was the sports and program director for WFAH radio in Alliance, OH. He also free-lanced a late night sports show on WJAN-TV in Canton, OH.

Tim Bourret will handle the color commentary and statistical sidelights for both the football and basketball networks. Clemson's associate sports information director has worked with Phillips for the past five years on the basketball shows and this will be his third year in the broadcast booth for football. Bourret holds a master's degree in communications and an undergraduate degree in finance from Notre Dame and over the last six years, 38 of his press guides and programs have won national or regional awards.

Clyde Wrenn is the newest member of the broadcast crew for football. A native of Chester, SC, Wrenn spent six years at Clemson as recruiting coordinator under three different head coaches. The last class Wrenn brought to Clemson included the seniors of the 1981 National Championship team. Wrenn's added insight and knowledge makes the coverage of Clemson football complete. He is in his second year as an analyst on Clemson football games.

WFBC AM/FM, headed by general manager Bruce Buchanan, will again be the flagship station for the Clemson network, with as many as 55 stations to air the Tiger games in 1984. The network will be handled through the office of Greg Anderson at WFBC in Greenville. Any questions regarding the network should be directed to Anderson at (803) 271-9200 or Allison Dalton, Clemson assistant athletic director, at (803) 656-2101.

Clemson Memorial Stadium

For the past several years, the old problem of supply and demand has been causing headaches for the Clemson ticket office. With ticket demands going through the roof and only a limited amount of seats, something had to be done. The answer was the new upper deck for Clemson's Memorial Stadium.

The 1983 season marked the third time in five years that an addition was completed and now "Death Valley" looks even more ominous to opponents. The north stands have been double-decked, bringing the permanent seating capacity of Memorial Stadium to 73,915.

Danny Ford is fourth among winningest active coaches in the NCAA division I.

Head Coach Danny Ford

Just six years have passed since Danny Ford made his celebrated coaching debut in the 1978 Gator Bowl and in that time Ford has become the fourth winningest active coach in America. With a record of 45-11-2 (.793) during his short tenure at Clemson, Ford ranks only behind Barry Switzer of Oklahoma, Joe Paterno of Penn State, and Tom Osborne of Nebraska in terms of winning percentage.

No school has a better three-year record in major college football (30-2-2) than Clemson, and most of the credit for that lofty mark has to go to Ford. Over the last three years, Ford has guided the Tigers to their longest unbeaten streak at home and is within three games of setting the Atlantic Coast Conference record for consecutive wins over ACC teams. Additionally, Ford guided the Tigers to the 1981 and 1982 ACC championships, and he guided Clemson to the pinnacle of college football with the 1981 National Championship.

Ford deservedly was named National Coach-of-the-Year in 1981 by United Press International, the American Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers of America and many local and national football clubs. Ford was also the youngest coach (33) to take a team to a national title.

Ford is also the youngest sixth-year coach in Division I of the NCAA, but the now 36-year-old Gadsden, Alabama, native has been associated with more winning teams and programs than most coaches come in contact with in a lifetime. Including his years as a player at Alabama under the late Bear Bryant, Ford has been associated with college football for the last 17 years. Sixteen of those clubs have had winning records and 11 have gone to bowl games. Additionally, those clubs have had a record of 141-49-5, a .736 winning percentage.

Now in his sixth full season as a head coach, Ford has led the Tigers to nearly 50 wins and three bowl games since taking over on December 10, 1978, when Charley Pell relinquished the coaching reins to Ford. Nearly 40 years after hiring 31-year-old Frank Howard, Clemson had hired a gifted 30-year-old to lead the Tiger forces on the gridiron.

With his list of accomplishments, it is little wonder that the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Pell's successor. Ford was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach for the Tigers, and he not only had the backing of Danny Ford is the youngest coach to win the National Championship.

Pell, but also from the members of the Clemson team. After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the board's unanimous opinion that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

Ford conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial power Ohio State in the Gator Bowl in his very first game as a head coach. Few mentors in NCAA history have made such a publicized and successful beginning.

Ford began his association with college football in 1967 when he started for Bear Bryant at Alabama as Ken Stabler's sophomore tight end. He played three years for Bryant, (including three wins against Clemson) and was an All-Southeastern Conference choice, an All-SEC academic selection and was team captain during his senior season.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts in 1970, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant during 1970 and 1971. Upon earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, he was made a full-time assistant under Bryant for the 1972 and '73 seasons. The Tide went to four more post-season games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's current head man then accepted a position as an assistant on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-76), before joining Pell's staff at Clemson. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

And only 23 games later, Ford became the youngest Division I head coach in the country.

President Bill Atchley

BILL ATCHLEY

Clemson President Bill L. Atchley has an impressive list of credentials and accomplishments. He is also known as a very down-to-earth, plain-spoken individualist. In one of his frequent banquet introductions, he was recently described this way: "This man is an aggressive administrator, a supersalesman, an innovative educator, and a talker of good plain common sense."

Since coming here in 1979, Bill Atchley has steered Clemson on a steady course toward becoming one of the Southeast's preeminent universities. Under his leadership Clemson is also making great strides in developing practical science and technology and adapting it for the good of all South Carolina. But in talking about what has been done at Clemson in the past five years, Bill Atchley always puts the emphasis on "we," not "me." And here is some of what Clemson has accomplished during the Atchley tenure:

- launched strategic planning to develop "centers of excellence," academic programs where Clemson will aim for a national reputation.
- obtained a $1 million Center for VLSI Reliability Research, making Clemson the nation's headquarters for reliability research on "very large scale integrated circuits," a key component of the so-called "supercomputers" of the future.
- established the $1 million Abney Chair of Free Enterprise in the College of Commerce and Industry.
- established the Engineering Center for Automated Manufacturing Technology to study robotics and other automation technology.
- established the S. C. Energy Research and Development Center.

- established the Energy and Resource Development Institute, which investigates the management and development of energy resources in the entire Southeast.
- joined with the S. C. Research Authority to create a 210-acre research park near campus to attract high technology industries.
- unveiled plans for The Strom Thurmond Center, a $25 million complex that will contain a performing arts building, a continuing education center, and an institute of government and public affairs.
- launched a multi-year, multi-million-dollar project called "Challenge to Greatness" to raise funds to bolster academic programs and enhance the University's total educational experience.

Also during this period the 15,000-seat upper deck project for the north stands in Memorial Stadium got the nod, and despite four years of one of the nation's worst recessions, Clemson University with Bill Atchley at the helm has raised $18.3 million in private funds for academic programs and boosted the assets of the Clemson Foundation from $3.4 million to $10.3 million.

A Missouri native, Bill Atchley has an ideal background to lead Clemson — a unique blend of education and experience. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in civil engineering from the University of Missouri and an engineering doctorate from Texas A&M. He spent 23 extremely successful years as a college professor, administrator, and engineering dean at the University of Missouri and at West Virginia University before coming to Clemson in 1979. He still owns and oversees operation of a productive 500-acre farm near his birthplace in southern Missouri.

Clemson's president is well-known for his work in the energy field. He was chairman of the Governor's Commission on Energy, Economy and Environment in West Virginia and has served as science and energy advisor to five governors in three states. He holds national-level appointments on the Committee on Fossil Fuels of the U. S. Department of Energy and on the board of directors of the Great Plains Coal Gasification Project, which has federal loan guarantees of $1 billion. At WVU he directed a group that brought a $24 million "fluidized bed" research facility to that campus, and he led a West Virginia business team whose efforts resulted in the selection of the Morgantown area for a $700 million coal conversion plant. He also managed to find time to serve as budget officer for a $63 million Personal Rapid Transit System.

From 1966 to 1975 at the University of Missouri-Rolla, Bill Atchley was the coordinator and liaison between the engineering school and the inner-city projects in St. Louis. He also developed the program for the school's doctor of engineering degree, and he designed its professional development degree.

President Atchley has received many honors stemming from his work in engineering and higher education. He is in Who's Who in Engineering Education and is a member of the Academy of Sciences and Outstanding Educators of America. His publications show him to be a leader in assessing society's needs and determining how education can best help the nation and the world.

At one time or another he has been a town alderman, a Rotarian, Chamber of Commerce director, Lions Club member, and local council director for the Boy Scouts of America. He has been chairman of the American Society of Engineering Education in the Midwest, chairman of the Council of Presidents for all public colleges and universities in South Carolina, and is on the board of directors of the American Federal Savings Bank. He is the only college president in America serving on the prestigious U. S. International Sports Committee, whose members include three professional sports commissioners, the presidents of the American Baseball League and U. S. Olympic Committee, and the publisher of Time magazine.

An active sports enthusiast, Bill Atchley has a superior knowledge of athletics. His expertise is especially proficient in baseball. Before his college days and a stint in the Army, he spent two years as a professional baseball pitcher for the former New York Giants organization. He is one educator who understands intimately the concept of the student-athlete. He himself was an athlete who attended college on an athletic scholarship, yet he recognizes that the role of a university is to build character and to increase knowledge and intellectual abilities in students to prepare them for productive, rewarding and contributing lives in society.

President Atchley and his wife, the former Pat Limbaugh, have three children. Julie is a 26-year-old graduate of Southeast Missouri University and is a special education teacher in the St. Louis school system. Pam, 22, was graduated from Clemson with a degree in engineering last May, while David, 18, is a freshman at Wofford College.

Athletic Director

Bill McLellan

No major university that stresses academic achievement by student-athletes as Clemson does has had a more dynamic, aggressive and forceful impact on the Atlantic Coast Conference and on national intercollegiate athletics in the last 14 years.

That success, across-the-board, in all sports and in the development of funding for a self-sustaining athletic program, parallels the administration of Bill McLellan as athletic director at Clemson University. Working his way up through the ranks after joining the Tiger athletic staff in May 1958, McLellan took on the task of running the whole show in February 1971. Since then the sports information people have not had the luxury of consistently using file photos or existing text material to depict the Clemson athletic complex. At Jervay Athletic Center nothing is more consistent than change.

Brick and mortar, additions to facilities, aesthetic improvements, innovative funding techniques, new ideas and fulfilled dreams have kept writers and cameramen busy chronicling the astigmatic success and growth of Clemson athletics.

In 1971, as McLellan charted a course for athletic excellence, IPTAY was providing $400,000 annually for scholarships. Today it is reaching $5 million a year for athletic and academic enrichment. As Executive Director of IPTAY, McLellan insists that his fund raisers maintain an endowment to assure that all commitments to Clemson athletes who wear the orange and white are met.

He has blended private support, gate receipts and a consortium with state banks to make Clemson Memorial Stadium the showplace for a national football champion. Soccer, baseball, tennis, swimming, track, and wrestling all have facilities that others seek to emulate. In Littlejohn Coliseum, NCAA and NIT banners proudly proclaim that excellence in the two major revenue sports, football and basketball, can coexist. In all, Clemson competes in 17 NCAA Division I programs — 11 men's and 6 women's — and conference titles, as well as national ranking are growing consistently in number. Record crowds watch the Tigers in action personally and millions more see the excitement of paw power on regional and national television.

Bill McLellan's theory for success is simple . . . "the Clemson family." He asserts that those who care for this Institution — alumni, friends, business and industry — can accomplish any task, meet any goal so long as they pull together in the best interest of Clemson University.

The pace he sets belie his 52 years, but his wife, Ann, will attest to his busy schedule that allows few opportunities for an afternoon on the lake, a family gathering or a quiet evening at home. But there's not a closer "Clemson family" than Bill and Ann Rogers McLellan, daughter Susy, a Winthrop alumna, Cliff and Bill, Clemson grads and Arch Anna, now a senior at Winthrop.

A native of Hamer, SC and a Dillon football recruit of Frank Howard, McLellan earned two football letters at Clemson and was on the 1952 Gator Bowl team. He earned his bachelors degree in 1954 and added a masters in agricultural economics in 1956. In June 1982 the Clemson University Alumni Association recognized him with the highest honor it can bestow — the Clemson Alumni Distinguished Service Award. Bill McLellan, an AD's AD who sees the forest and the trees at the same time.

BOBBY ROBINSON, Associate Athletic Director

An organization as large as the Clemson Athletic Department requires a multi-million dollar budget and the responsibility for making the business decisions falls on the shoulders of Bobby Robinson. Robinson came to Clemson in 1973, and has done an outstanding job as Clemson's financial success in all areas has occurred under his guidance.

Robinson's responsibilities include the budgeting and administration of Clemson's football and basketball teams, making travel arrangements, administering the grant-in-aid program, hiring athletic department personnel, arranging contracts for the department, and handling all purchases.

Robinson graduated from Furman University in 1968 with a BS degree in business and political science. He was a member of the varsity golf team and the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman.

Robinson worked in his family's business in Columbia after graduation, and in 1970, was hired to work in the Office of Student Affairs at Clemson. In 1973, he moved to the athletic department and was named assistant to the athletic director in charge of business operations. In 1980, he was elevated to his present position.

Robinson is also the former golf coach of the Tigers. He gave up the position in 1983, to fully concentrate on his duties as associate athletic director. Before he left, however, Robinson guided the Tiger linksters to a fifth-place national finish, the team's highest ever in 1983. Previously, he had guided the team to two other appearances in the national championships and Clemson's first ACC golf title in 1982.

Robinson was born in Columbia, SC, and graduated from A. C. Flora High School in 1964. While in high school, Robinson lettered in golf, football, basketball and baseball. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and the Key Club.

The 38-year-old Robinson is single.

EARLE AMBROSE, Assistant Athletic Director

The Firemen's Fund Agent in the Clemson Athletic Department is Earle Ambrose, as he is a man who wears many hats. In his role as assistant athletic director, Ambrose is responsible for negotiating numerous contracts for the department, assisting the athletic director in administrative functions, and overseeing the ticket and parking operations for all Clemson sports. As pilot for the athletic department, Ambrose ferries teams to events, carries coaches on recruiting trips, and retrieves stolen planes from the Bahamas, as he was called on to do in the summer of 1983, as one of the department's planes was taken from its hangar.

Ambrose came to Clemson in 1973 to assume direction of the ticket office. He was promoted to the position of assistant to the athletic director in 1979 after serving as ticket manager for six years. During his tenure as ticket manager, sales sky-rocketed 48 percent. Ambrose has been an outstanding addition to the department and he continues to aid in the smooth distribution of tickets to Clemson sporting events.

Ambrose joined the Air Force at the age of 18 and he spent 30 years in the service prior to coming to Clemson. He saw combat duty in Korea and he traveled extensively while rising to the rank of colonel.

Ambrose graduated from Greenville High School in his native

Greenville in 1942. He is married to the former Betty Bradley, the sister of Clemson Sports Information Director Bob Bradley. The Ambroses have two daughters, Jane and Ann, a son, Skip, and five grandchildren.

JOE TURNER, Executive Secretary of IPTAY

For the past five years, Clemson's IPTAY club has been recognized as the number-one athletic scholarship fund-raising organization in America and Executive Secretary Joe Turner has been one of the prime movers in IPTAY's growth.

IPTAY received a record 2.9 million dollars in 1979-80, Turner's first year as executive director, and after hitting the three and four million dollar mark in succeeding years, IPTAY raised a total of 5.0 million dollars for 1982-83. The organization surpassed five million again in 1983-84. Turner has also been largely responsible for maintaining IPTAY's 22-year record of increasing yearly contributions.

Turner graduated from Clemson with a BS degree in industrial management in 1971, and while he was an undergraduate, he was a Dean's List student. He was a member of the Blue Key and Tiger Brotherhood honorary fraternities and he was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He has also just completed a two-year term as national president of his fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Turner's professional service to Clemson began in 1971 when he took the position of associate director of alumni relations. During his tenure with the Alumni Association, Turner completed work on his master's degree in management. He was named executive secretary of IPTAY in 1979.

The 35-year-old Turner is a native of Williston, SC, and he graduated from Williston-Elko High School in 1967. He is married to the former Cathy Anne Campbell of Gadsden, AL, and the couple has two sons, Joseph Jackson, Jr. (7/13/76) and Tate (3/2/81), and one daughter, Anne Campbell (12/17/78).

DWIGHT RAINEY, Assistant Athletic Director for Non-Revenue Sports

Clemson's major sports such as football and basketball have become names on the national scene, but just as dramatic has been the Tigers' arrival in non-revenue sports. Dwight Rainey, who is entering his second year as an assistant athletic director, will be responsible for all areas of these rapidly growing and improving sports.

This past academic year the Clemson sports program was again ranked in the top 10 in the nation.

Rainey, 39, came to the Clemson administration from the basketball office, where he served as Bill Foster's top assistant for the past eight years. While with the basketball program, Rainey was responsible for recruiting, scheduling, on-the-floor instruction and administrative tasks. Clemson's basketball schedule was ranked among the top 25 hardest schedules in the country while Rainey was in charge of that task.

Rainey was the first assistant hired by Bill Foster upon the head coach's appointment at Clemson, and Rainey had spent nearly one-third of his life in association with Foster. That time included his career as a player and an assistant coach.

He prepped at Clarkston (Ga.) High School where he was a standout athlete, earning letters in basketball, baseball, and golf. He earned a spot on the Georgia All-Star basketball team and led the South squad with a 16-point performance to walk away with the most valuable player honors.

His performance earned him a scholarship at Shorter College (Rome, Ga.) where his association with Foster began. During his stay at Shorter, he paced the Hawks to a 94-23 slate and was a Converse All-America selection as a senior. He was ranked as the eighth-best free throw shooter in the country as a senior.

His coaching debut was made as a Foster assistant at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte where he spent five seasons with the 49ers before coming to Clemson.

FRED HOOVER, Assistant Athletic Director, Head Athletic Trainer

One of the most rapidly changing areas in athletics is the field of sports medicine, and keeping Clemson on the frontier is Fred Hoover. Now in his 26th year as trainer for the Tigers, the 54-year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is responsible for purchasing of athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and from 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work. In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association — Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame.

In 1983 Hoover was the recipient of the Distinguished Service to Sports Medicine Award. The honor is given by the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children — Catherine, a 1980 Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan, a senior at Clemson.

SAM COLSON, Strength Training Director

Sam Colson is entering his second year as strength and conditioning coach for the Tigers and he inherits one of the finest programs and most complete weight facilities in the nation. Colson relinquished the reins of the men's track program in May of 1983 to take his new position when George Dostal left for a similar position with Atlanta of the NFL.

Colson is no stranger to strength training, as conditioning was a vital part in his success as a standout javelin thrower at Kansas and as he guided the Tiger track team from mediocrity to the respected program it is now.

As a competitor at Kansas, Colson was a three-time All-American and was NCAA Champion in 1973. He was also a three-time AAU All-American and he was the 1974 AAU National Champion. Colson was the top United States entry in the 1976 Olympics in Montreal, where he was fifth with a throw of 282-4. Colson's best throw came at the US — USSR dual meet in Durham, NC, where he took top honors in 1974. Colson was also named to the Jayhawk Hall of Fame for his accomplishments at Kansas.

Colson, a native of Mankato, KS, came to Clemson in 1974 to complete work on his master's degree in education. He served as an assistant track coach while completing his studies and was named head track coach in 1977.

During his stint as the head coach, Colson's men's cross country teams captured ACC championships four times, including three straight starting in 1980, and finished in the top 25 teams nationally five out of six years. The women's cross country program grew from fifth in the conference in 1979 to fifth in the nation in 1982. On the track, Colson's teams claimed one ACC title outright and shared another, and 31 Clemson athletes were named All-American.

Colson, 34, is married to the former Cathy Roberto of Concord, CA, and the Colsons are the parents of one son, Nathaniel Howe (5-18-83).

BOB BRADLEY, Sports Information Director

The last few years have seen Clemson athletics rise to a new position of public awareness, and keeping the Tigers in the minds of media and the public alike is the job of Bob Bradley. A recognized leader in his profession, Bradley has received every conceivable award and has become one of the most respected men in the sports information field. Bradley is now in his 30th year as Clemson's sports information director.

The knowledgeable and personable Bradley was elected president of CoSIDA, the national organization of sports information directors, during 1974-75. He received the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year in 1976 and he was also elected by his peers to the organization's Hall of Fame. Under Bradley's direction, the Clemson Sports Information Department has won a total of 38 national and state awards for their brochures and press guides in the last six years. During 1979-80, Clemson won nine awards for its work, which was the second highest total among Division I schools that year. The SID office won six awards each in 1980-81 and 1982-83 and garnered a total of nine in 1981-82. Included in the nine awards in 1981-82 were six national award-winning press guides, more than any other school in the country. Last year the Clemson football guide was ranked second in the nation.

Several student assistants who worked under Bradley have gone on to full-time positions in the sports information field, an indication of Bradley's dedication to sports information. Additionally, he was honored in 1983 by the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame for his special contributions to athletics.

During his college days at Clemson, Bradley was the editor of The Tiger, the student newspaper. In addition to his task of being editor and sports editor of that weekly publication, Bradley also worked for the Greenville News-Piedmont on both a full and part-time basis. Bradley graduated from Clemson in 1951 with a BS degree in textile manufacturing. He served in the Air Force for four years.

The 59-year-old Bradley was born in Randleman, NC, and is a graduate of Greenville (SC) Senior High. Bradley is married to the former Louise Madewell of Dallas, TX, and they have two children, Dorma, who is married and has one child, Amanda, and Robert, a sportswriter for the Anderson Independent.

Demand for tickets to Clemson athletic events is at an all-time high, and it is Van Hilderbrand's responsibility to distribute these tickets to the thousands who attend the games. Hilderbrand and his staff sell twice as many football season tickets as any other school in the ACC and admitted the nation's 10th largest crowd for the 1983 football season. Basketball season's tickets should reach an all-time high this year with the arrival of a new coaching staff.

In the five years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, he has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball.

The clamour for tickets has risen as Clemson's athletic teams have continued to win and Hilderbrand has continually met the challenge of finding places for both fans and students to sit. Hilderbrand also had the added challenge of handling requests for tickets in the new 15,000 seat addition to Memorial Stadium in 1983.

Hilderbrand, a native of Clover, SC, began working in the ticket office as an undergraduate when he enrolled at Clemson in 1970. He graduated in 1974 with a BS in recreation and park administration.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson as assistant ticket manager. Three years later, he was named to his present position.

Hilderbrand attended Clover Senior High School, where he was a four-year letterman in basketball and a three-year letterman in baseball. Hilderbrand, 32, is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover. The Hilderbrands have one son, Van, Jr., who was born December 31, 1979.

ALLISON DALTON, Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing and Media Relations

The Clemson Tiger Paw is one of the most universally recognized symbols in college athletics, and the man responsible for licensing its use is Allison Dalton. Dalton is entering his sixth year as promotions director and his second as assistant athletic director.

During his tenure, Dalton has been responsible for getting the Tiger Paw and other Clemson logos copyrighted, which will eliminate any unauthorized use of the symbols. He also oversees the highly successful Orange Aids marketing program. As assistant AD,

Dalton will continue to handle the athletic department's marketing efforts and will oversee the operation of the sports information office.

Dalton, who earned both his bachelor's (1960) and master's (1964) from Clemson in industrial management, served as state campaign coordinator for U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond for a year prior to becoming manager of the Clemson House Hotel, a capacity he served in until coming to the athletic department in the fall of 1979.

After receiving his undergraduate degree, he served two years in the U.S. Army as assistant printing control officer at Fort Bliss, TX, and he was discharged as a first lieutenant. Following his master's degree, Dalton was a management trainee and staff assistant for Karastan Mills for two years and was then in partnership with his brother in the furniture and carpet business.

Dalton is married to the former Carolyn Jones of Pickens, SC, and the Daltons are the parents of two children, Brett (4-10-66) and CeCe (3-8-68).

Handling the day-to-day administrative tasks that result from a successful football program is the job of Don Wade. Now in his second year since rejoining the Tigers, Wade is responsible for making certain that the operations of the football team go as smoothly as their performance on the field.

Since coming back to Tigertown, Wade's contributions have been tremendous. One of his main tasks is the coordination of recruiting efforts, a necessity in any successful athletic program. Not only is he in charge of the official visits of high school prospects, but he handles mass mailings of all recruiting publications and provides timely information to coaches who are on the road. As if that wasn't enough to keep one person busy, he serves as the liaison to pro scouts and as an administrator to the highly-successful football camp.

Wade is certainly no stranger to Clemson. After spending four years as a linebacker for the Tigers, he received his bachelors degree in education in 1952. He then spent a year as an assistant coach at Waynesboro High School in Georgia before returning to Clemson for 15 seasons on the football staff.

In 1968, Wade left Clemson to become head football coach at Tennessee Tech, and in 1974, he was also named that school's athletic director. On March 1, 1983, he returned to his alma mater and assumed his present position.

Wade, who was born in Tyronza, AR and attended high school in Lenoir City, TN, is married to the former Barbara Henderson of Clemson. The Wades have two daughters, Donna and Beth, and one son, Clint. In addition, they have two grandchildren.

BOBBY DOUGLAS, Equipment Manager

Making sure that Clemson's athletic teams dress as well as they play is the responsibility of Equipment Manager Bobby Douglas. Douglas takes great pride in the appearance of the Tigers on game days and he also strives to insure the players' safety by keeping the equipment in good working order. Douglas is also responsible for the associated athletic equipment such as footballs, basketballs, baseball bats, and track hurdles.

Douglas assumed his present job on July 16, 1982, when former equipment manager Len Gough was named assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. Douglas had served as the assistant equipment manager since December 1978.

Packing and planning for extended road trips has become one of Douglas' specialties, as the Clemson football team went to four bowls in a period of five years and in 1982, traveled to Tokyo, Japan for the Mirage Bowl. The Tiger basketball team is also a frequent traveler, as the team regularly makes trips to Christmas tournaments.

Douglas, born on September 9, 1955, is a 1974 graduate of Toms River High school in New Jersey. He ran cross country, indoor and outdoor track and was a three-year letterman in each sport. He came to Clemson on a track scholarship and ran with the team his freshman year. He went into managing at Clemson as a student in his junior year. During his sophomore year he served as co-sports editor of The Tiger, the Clemson student newspaper.

Douglas, a native of Montclair, NJ, received his bachelor's degree in industrial education from Clemson in December of 1978 and became assistant equipment manager almost immediately.

We've had the Beef
For three years

Two-Time All-American William Perry

National Champions

A team unranked in the preseason polls and coming off a 6-5 record captured the hearts of all underdogs in 1981 as Clemson won its first national championship in any sport. Clemson was a unanimous number-one choice, Danny Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year, Jeff Davis was selected as the ACC Player-of-the-Year, and five Clemson players were chosen first or second-team All-American by various services.

The Tigers swept past 12 opponents, the only team in the nation to have that perfect record. Included in the victories were triumphs over Georgia (Herschel Walker's only regular season loss), North Carolina (the first battle of top 10 ACC teams) and Nebraska (Orange Bowl). Clemson was the only team in the nation to defeat three top 10 teams that season.

Clemson held Herschel Walker to his season low and handed him his only regular season loss in three years in the Tigers' 13-3 win.

Jeff McCall was the leading rusher and scored the game's only touchdown as Clemson won the ACC Game-of-the-Decade, 10-8 over North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

Rod McSwain changed the momentum by blocking a punt in the regular season finale win at South Carolina.

Perry Tuttle and Jeff Davis were roommates, co-captains and All-Americans on the national championship team.

Cliff Austin signals where Clemson finished in the final polls of 1981.

Mike Eppley and Homer Jordan were ranked in the top dozen in the nation in passing efficiency between 1981 and 1983. They met in 1982 and led Clemson to a 9-1-1 ledger and an ACC title.

Terry Kinard was the most decorated defensive player in the nation in 1982. Clemson's all-time interception leader was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Year.

Cliff Austin broke a 30-year-old record with 260 yards rushing in a romp over Duke.

1982 Ranked Eighth

The only thing harder than winning a national championship is defending that crown. This was the challenge that met the 1982 Clemson Tigers and it did not look as if Danny Ford's team would bear any resemblance of its immediate predecessor after Clemson opened 0-1-1. But, Ford sparked a bit of pride in his players and the club won its last nine games, including a second straight ACC title.

Terry Kinard was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Year by CBS and was a consensus All-American in the secondary. Ten players off the 1982 team were drafted into the NFL and six stuck with franchises as the 1983 season began. The draft total was the third highest in the nation for one school and that group had been a major reason Clemson had an incredible 21-1-1 record for two seasons.

No team has ever traveled farther to claim a conference championship than Clemson. The Tigers clinched the ACC with a victory over Wake Forest in the Mirage Bowl in Tokyo.

1983 — Eleventh Ranked

The 1983 season was supposed to be a year in which Clemson made a retreatment to middle of the road respectability. No one ranked the Tigers in the preseason poll because of the loss of so many fine players to the pro ranks and the presence of a schedule that included four teams that would be ranked in the top 20 at one time or another during the season.

After another slow start (1-1-1), Clemson gained strength as the season went on and finished with an eight-game winning streak and a second straight 9-1-1 record. Three more players were named to various All-America teams, William Perry, James Robinson and James Farr. The Tigers stretched their unbeaten streak in Death Valley to 20 games and ran the streak of consecutive wins over ACC teams to 19. For the third straight year the Tigers were ranked in the top 11 in the nation, a statement only Nebraska and Georgia could make.

The year was highlighted on November 12 when Clemson set some records in a 52-27 win over Maryland. The most intriguing record, however, was set by the Clemson fans as 80,615 fans set a Guinness Book of World Records by releasing 363,729 balloons as the Tigers ran down the hill.

James Farr paved the way for Clemson running backs for three years and was named an All-American in 1983.

North Carolina entered its game with Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, but could manage only three points against the resurrected Tiger defense.

Kevin Mack ended his career in style with a career high 186 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown run on his final carry in Death Valley.

The Clemson fans made the Guinness Book of World Records by releasing 363,729 balloons prior to the victory over Maryland.

The Georgia game was a heavyweight struggle and ended in a classic tie. Vandell Arrington (1) knocked this pass away to keep the Dogs out of the endzone.

Danny Ford

Bear Bryant has tutored many a successful mentor, but no one has been a faster learner than Danny Ford. Few coaches accomplish in a lifetime what he has done prior to his 36th birthday.

Currently, he is ranked fourth among active coaches in winning percentage, owns a National Championship, two ACC titles, has made three bowl appearances and has been named National Coach-of-the-Year and ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He is the youngest coach ever to win the national championship, and is truly running out of mountains to climb.

Strength Training

One of the major reasons behind Clemson's competitive edge in all sports is the highly-developed strength and conditioning program. In just eight years, the program has come from a few dead weights and a store-bought weight bench to one of the finest and most well-equipped facilities in the nation.

The recently-expanded strength training room contains nearly three-quarters of a million dollars of CAM II machines for quickness and muscle-fiber development, Nautilus machines for strength and flexibility and numerous free weights which also aid in strength development. The facility was designed not only for the football team's training, but for all 17 of Clemson's varsity sports and the cheerleaders.

Each sport has its own program with the weights that will exercise all groups of muscles that are used in the sport over a period of three workouts in five days. The program for basketball is designed for each individual, but the football regimen is broken down by positions. There are specific programs for linemen, offensive and defensive backs, quarterbacks, kickers, and receivers.

Entering his second year as director of the strength program is Sam Colson, who resigned his position as men's track coach two years ago to move into the weight room. Colson is well-versed in conditioning, as he was an All-American at Kansas in the javelin, one of the most physically demanding specialties in sports. This knowledge of training plus Colson's ability to teach made him the logical choice to succeed George Dostal, who left Clemson for the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Colson's philosophies have had an immediate impact on the Tiger weight program. Rather than simply building bulk and mass on the athletes, the emphasis now is on total body conditioning. The Clemson football program has reached a level where better pure athletes — not just better football players — are being recruited. As a result, the weight program has been adjusted to include more emphasis on a larger variety of drills.

The new overall strength program will include more flexibility drills and running and will also build stamina, in addition to making the athletes as strong as possible. This new emphasis in the program was the reason that overall team strength has not increased as rapidly in recent years as it did in the past.

Clemson has placed five football players on the All-American Strength Team over the past four years, which places the school among the national leaders in that category. Clemson has reached new levels of athletic prowess due to its strength program, and this is a trend that should continue well into the future.

1983 In Review

Sept. 3 Western Carolina at Clemson

Weather: Cloudy, Drizzle 72°

Attendance: 69,962

Clemson christened the 15,000 seats of the new North stands upper deck with a 44-10 wearing down of Western Carolina. Clemson took the opening kickoff and went 50 yards in eight plays to score on Mike Eppley's nine-yard pass to Ray Williams. Three of Clemson's next five drives went for over 70 yards, and the surges led to a Bob Paulling field goal and touchdowns on a run by Anthony Parete and a reception by K. D. Dunn. After an interception, Donald Igwebuike kicked a 29-yard field goal to put Clemson up 27-0 at the half. Eppley scored from 12 yards and later threw a 39-yard strike to Terrance Roulhac. Western got on the board with a 17-yard interception return for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter and on the last play of the game, Dean Biasucci added a 32-yard field goal to account for the final margin.

Sept. 10 Clemson at Boston College

Weather: Hot, Humid 86°

Attendance: 32,500

After Clemson had come back to tie Boston College in 1982, the rematch in Boston was eagerly anticipated over the summer. BC got the upper hand, though, as the Eagles beat Clemson 31-16 on a hot, sticky night in Beantown. Clemson stormed out of the gates with a 47-yard field goal by Bob Paulling after a fumble early in the game. After a punt, Kevin Mack went around right end to score from 42 yards out. BC cut the margin to 10-3 on a 24-yard field goal by Kevin Snow. After a 59-yard drive, Paulling added a 38-yard field goal and Clemson led 13-3 at the break. Donald Igwebuike added a 55-yard field goal on Clemson's first drive of the second half to give Clemson a 16-3 lead with 25 minutes to go. Doug Flutie, BC's diminutive quarterback, then got untracked and went 7-12 passing in the second half for 95 yards and two touchdowns. The Eagles also ground out 180 yards in the second half as Clemson suffered its worst defeat since 1980.

Sept. 17 Georgia at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, Warm 82°

Attendance: 79,815

Clemson seemed to hold the upper hand in the first quarter of the Battle of the Savannah River, but the Tigers' lone scoring chance was snuffed out by Terry Hoage's block of Bob Paulling's field goal attempt. Hoage would later deflect another attempt. Georgia opened the second quarter with 26- and 40-yard field goals by Kevin Butler. Clemson rebounded, however, with a 49-yard march that led to a 37-yard Paulling field goal. Kenny Flowers' 16-yard run off left tackle gave Clemson a 10-6 lead at intermission. The Tigers took the kickoff and marched 45 yards for Paulling's second field goal and after a Georgia fumble, Paulling added his third three-pointer. A Clemson fumble led to Todd Williams' eight-yard scoring pass to Clarence Kay and Butler added a 31-yard field goal to tie the game. Donald Igwebuike's hurculean 68-yard attempt with three seconds left was just short and Butlers' 66-yard effort with one tick left was short and wide left.

Sept. 24 Georgia Tech at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, Pleasant 64°

Attendance: 73,882

Clemson had not met Georgia Tech in football since 1977. Clemson brought out the orange pants for the first time in 1983 and for the ninth straight time, the magical britches brought a Clemson victory. The final stats were fairly even, but Tech's three lost fumbles and two interceptions consistently gave Clemson prime position on the field, which the Tigers converted into points for a 41-14 win over the Yellow Jackets. After an interception, Clemson moved 38 yards (33 yards on one Kenny Flowers rush) to score on Mike Eppley's one-yard run. Clemson led 24-7 at halftime as Eppley had thrown to Terrance Roulhac for one score and Anthony Parete had run for another, while Bob Paulling added a 26-yard field goal. Tech scored on a 66-yard quarterback sneak by John Dewberry. Flowers and Stacey Driver scored from close range after long Tiger drives in the second half, and Donald Igwebuike tacked on a 41-yard field goal for Clemson's final points.

Oct. 8 Virginia at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, Mild 71°

Attendance: 78,376

Clemson claimed its 23rd win over Virginia in as many tries with a 42-21 win over George Welsh's surprising Cavaliers in Clemson's Homecoming game. After an interception, Mike Eppley threw passes to Ray Williams and K. D. Dunn which moved the Tigers to the Virginia eight. Kenny Flowers carried in for the score on the next play. Kevin Mack scored from 18 and 21 yards later in the first half and the senior fullback would rush for 109 yards for the day. Two Kenny Stadlin field goals cut Clemson's halftime margin to 21-6. Flowers scored two touchdowns in the second half — one rushing and one 36-yard effort after a short pass from Eppley. Virginia got its points on a 59-yard pass from Wayne Schuchts to Billy Smith and later on a four-yard run by Antonio Rice.

Oct. 15 Clemson at Duke

Weather: Sunny, Clear 70°

Attendance: 19,300

Clemson dodged a bullet at the end of the game with Duke and escaped Durham with a 38-31 win over the Blue Devils. Kevin Mack gained 70 yards of a five-play, 71-yard drive, which included a 53-yard tight-rope jaunt down the right sideline. Mack then carried over from the two. Duke came right back with a 30-yard field goal. After a 92-yard drive, Mike Eppley carried over from the one as the first quarter ended. Stacey Driver made a slashing run from the three and Bob Paulling added a 35-yard field goal in the second quarter. Ben Bennett then threw for 71 of an 80-yard march and the touchdown to cut the Clemson lead to 24-10 at the half. Kenny Flowers scored on one- and 36-yard runs and Clemson closed its scoring. Bennett then got hot, hitting 22 of 34 for 244 yards and three touchdowns in the second half and he brought Duke back in the game. On the last drive of the game, Bennett threw seven passes and moved to the Clemson nine. On fourth down, Bennett rolled right and threw on the run only to have the pass deflected by James Robinson, preserving the win for Clemson.

Oct. 22 N. C. State at Clemson

Weather: Cloudy, Misty 53°

Attendance: 73,773

For the first time in 1983, Clemson had to come from behind in the second half to win. Clemson outlasted N. C. State 27-17 in the third annual Textile Bowl. After exchanging punts for most of the first quarter, Clemson got the ball at State's 44 and it only took four plays for Mike Eppley to hit K. D. Dunn in the back of the end zone from the 16. Steve Berlin tackled State quarterback Tim Esposito for a safety to open the second period. The Wolfpack came back, though, with a 55-yard drive that led to a field goal. After an interception, Esposito executed a 37-yard toss to Phil Brothers for a 10-9 Wolfpack lead at the break. State opened the second half with a 68-yard drive that led to Joe McIntosh's six-yard run that put the Wolfpack up 17-9. At the end of the quarter, Mike Eppley sprinted around right end for a 28-yard score. Eppley also scored the tying two-point conversion. On the first Tiger play in the fourth quarter, Eppley hit Ray Williams with a 75-yard pass/run play. Paulling added a 32-yard FG with 47 seconds left to pad the Tigers' margin.

Clemson was outgained offensively, but still gained its seventh straight win over Wake Forest. Stacey Driver rushed for 60 of Clemson's 80 yards in the first drive and he scored from the one. Wake came back after a fumbled punt and scored on Gary Schofield's 22-yard pass to Dexter Hawkins. Wake pulled ahead with a 28-yard Danny Nolan field goal early in the second quarter. After Rod McSwain returned an interception 42 yards, Bob Paulling hit on a 26-yard field goal to knot the game at the break. After a Ty Davis interception, Mike Eppley hit K. D. Dunn for the go-ahead touchdown. Wake tied the score for the third time as Schofield hit Ron Crume for an 18-yard touchdown early in the final quarter. Clemson went ahead for the final time as Driver rushed for all but nine yards in a 54-yard march. Driver scored from the two. Henry Walls ended Wake's last chance when he tackled Dan Dougherty short of the first down at the Clemson 24 in the last minute.

Nov. 5 Clemson at North Carolina

Weather: Cloudy, Cold 48°

Attendance: 53,689

Keenan Stadium is normally one of the most hostile environments in the nation in which to play, but Clemson has not lost there since 1971 and the tradition continued with the Tigers' 16-3 win. The two teams exchanged punts three times before UNC got a sustained drive to the Tiger 29. Brooks Barwick missed the try from 45 yards, one of two attempts he would miss. Clemson got on the scoreboard as a 10-play, 67-yard drive led to Bob Paulling's 27-yard field goal. After a Terence Mack interception, Mike Eppley and Kenny Flowers moved the Tigers to the UNC 13, and Paulling hit on a 29-yard field goal that gave Clemson a 6-0 halftime lead. James Robinson re-

Clemson has won 55 games during the last six years, more than any other ACC school has accumulated in any six-year span.

covered Scott Stankavage's fumble at the Carolina 44. After driving to the six, Eppley hit K. D. Dunn coming across the end zone. North Carolina came back and moved to the Clemson 11 before Barwick hit on a 27-yard field goal. Paulling booted a 28-yard field goal for the Tigers' final points. After beating the 10th-ranked Tar Heels, Clemson moved back into the AP Top 20.

Nov. 12 Maryland at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, Cool 52°

Attendance: 80,615

This was a day for records. With the 52-27 win over Maryland, Clemson entered the Guinness Book of Records with the pregame release of 363,729 balloons, extended its unbeaten streak at home to 20 consecutive games, claimed its 19th win in a row over ACC teams, and it stretched the Tigers' record in the orange pants to 10-0. Mike Eppley got the scoring started with a screen pass to Kenny Flowers, who ran down the sidelines for 64 yards and the score. Eppley set the Clemson single-season touchdown pass mark (12) with a 13-yard toss to K. D. Dunn and would later hit Terrance Roulhac from eight yards out for his third touchdown strike of the day. Kevin Mack, on his way to 186 yards on 30 carries, scored from six and one yard out in the first half and from 42 yards in the second half. Stacey Driver scored the other Clemson marker on a 14-yard run off tackle and Bob Paulling rounded out the scoring with a 33-yard field goal. Boomer Esiason passed for 227 yards and a touchdown, and he rushed for two more scores. The only thing that was a "downer" about this win was a goal post which was felled by joyous fans after the game.

Nov. 19 Clemson at South Carolina

Weather: Sunny, Clear 70°

Attendance: 74,550

South Carolina came out in an all-black uniform, much like Clemson had done in 1980 with the orange pants, but it was not enough, as Clemson held off an inspired Gamecock team, 22-13. Clemson moved 78 yards to set up Bob Paulling's 21-yard field goal. After a Carolina punt, Clemson moved 80 yards in 12 plays to score on the only touchdown of Braxton Williams' two-year career. USC came back to score on Mark Fleetwood's 44-yard field goal. Clemson reacted with Paulling hitting on a 47-yard effort. Carolina cut the score to 12-10 Clemson on Quinton Lewis' six-yard sweep before the half. Kevin Mack and Stacey Driver then carried the offense 90 yards in 13 plays with Mack scoring from the one. Chuckie Richardson intercepted a pass and returned it 38 yards and then, after four plays, Paulling kicked a 42-yard field goal. Fleetwood added a field goal from 35 yards, and USC's last drive was thwarted by Terence Mack's interception in the end zone.

School Colors and Nickname

The late William J. Latimer, 1906 graduate of Clemson College, did some extensive research on the football program at his alma mater, and offered the following in regard to the school's nickname and colors:

Professor Walter Merritt Riggs, who coached Clemson's first varsity football team in 1896, and who also served as head coach again in 1899, is said to have "planted the seed" for the school's grid program.

In referring to the players from that first team, Latimer said, "Due to the lack of helmets and head protection they (the players) wore long hair. These long manes might have gained them the name of Lions had it not been for the orange and purple striped jersey's and stockings that resembled tigers. The latter nickname seemed to stick."

Latimer then observed about John Heisman's 1900 Clemson team: "They had been called Tigers early in their career. And Clemson used the insignia of a Tigers' head with bared fangs, with the motto 'Eat Em Up Clemson' before Heisman's day."

Latimer's findings are substantiated by the fact that Riggs had played football at Auburn (nicknamed Tigers) and that its colors were orange and blue.

The official colors of the school are Northwest Purple and Burnt Orange, with the predominant colors on today's athletic uniforms being orange and white.

Joe Sherman '34, former Clemson sports publicist, news bureau director, and director of Clemson's alumni relations, offered the following in his book, The Clemson Tigers, which was published in 1976:

"It is extremely doubtful that anyone can tell you with certainty how the Clemson colors swung from purple (and a rather pale purple, at that) and gold to what for several years was described as Northwestern purple and burnt orange.

"But that the colors have changed, unofficially if not officially, is a fact and there is a story about it that is probably as good as any other explanation.

"It says that in the early years of Jess Neely's tenure, he found it almost impossible to get uniforms in purple and gold that would be 'color fast.' In other words, between constant exposure to both the weather and the washing machines, the purple and gold faded markedly and became difficult, if not impossible, to recognize for what they were supposed to be.

"So, working with professional color people in the school of textiles and with sporting goods manufacturers, Neely finally arrived at deeper colors (a slightly deeper purple and a gold that became orange) that were more color fast in that they held up better under the rays of the sun, the agitations of the washing machines and the carry-over from season to season."

Still, most people believe that the purple and orange are the true colors.

Tiger Bowl Games

1940 Cotton Bowl January 1, 1940 — Dallas, TX Clemson 6, Boston College 3

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season and had come within a blocked extra point of escaping the regular season without a loss. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Bryant missed the extra point.

A 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 45-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

1949 Gator Bowl January 1, 1949 — Jacksonville, FL Clemson 24, Missouri 23

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shut out of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led 7-0.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After the kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play march with quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched a 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, halfback Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

1951 Orange Bowl January 1, 1951 — Miami, FL Clemson 15, Miami (FL) 14

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shut-outs. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back" to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40 and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami went 95 yards in five plays for its second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time at 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitchout from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. J. D. Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

1952 Gator Bowl January 1, 1952 — Jacksonville, FL Miami (FL) 14, Clemson 0

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game — a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricane did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

1957 Orange Bowl

January 1, 1957 — Miami, FL

Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later starred with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Trailing 20-0, Clemson coach Frank Howard told his players that he would resign if they did not play any better in the second half. Having been sufficiently shaken, Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells' three-yard run. Bussey's extra point try was good.

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

1959 Sugar Bowl

January 1, 1959 — New Orleans, LA

LSU 7, Clemson 0

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

1959 Bluebonnet Bowl

December 19, 1959 — Houston, TX
Clemson 23, Texas Christian 7

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started to put Clemson up 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard half-back pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns to put the Tigers ahead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for one score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide and Clemson led 16-7.

Clemson returned to their running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

1977 Gator Bowl

December 30, 1977 — Jacksonville, FL
Pittsburgh 34, Clemson 3

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making their first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending national champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football prowess for Clemson.

1978 Gator Bowl

December 29, 1978 — Jacksonville, FL
Clemson 17, Ohio State 15

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller, himself, ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passes his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive, but an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

1979 Peach Bowl

December 31, 1979 — Atlanta, GA
Baylor 24, Clemson 18

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' lead to 24-10.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining second for the win.

1982 Orange Bowl January 1, 1982 — Miami, FL Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 27 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-America receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis' 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Jeff Davis, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive and the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.
